

N.S.S. Camp attended by you. (Report Writing) (49)

Student life is a life which leads the students towards multipurpose and various knowledge and those are practicable in real life. The student learn many things during their student life which are mental as well as physical. Many people look upon the manual labour as degrading foolishly. In this connection, we must remember the thinking of Swami Vivekananda, who said to the youths - "Arise! Awake, and stop not till you achieve the goal". One great man and a king had also said "Be assured that wielding of a spade or the driving of a plough or pulling of water is honourable not degrading. At the same time unity with co-activities has got an enjoyable life and important place in student's life. For the full fulfillment of these guide lines in practical life, students have been given chance to participate in N.S.S. activities. The title itself shows "National Service Scheme" which is the almost duty of every individual citizen of the country. The youths have a vital role in this matter.

Our college has an N.S.S. unit. Our N.S.S. camp for seven days was organised from 17th November to 23rd November at a village named "~~Amaravati~~", 10 km away from our college. We had to start our work in the camp ~~in the~~ under the guidance of our incharge professor Dr. Saha and pro. ~~madam Gilmore~~. The planning for the camp was already set out previously. In our project there were many works to be done during the camp. The works were cleaning of the village area, to plant trees, to construct an approach road, cleanliness of the tank and other public places. The planning also included to educate the illiterate people of the village. The veterinary doctors, P.H.E. officers were invited to cooperate us in the p by good guidance. Our students had to guide family to have separate latrine for themselves and should not use the village out area. Our incharge professor contacted to the Swapanch and punches to cooperate with us. There were cultural programmes at night, which was much praised by all. It was such an occasion that can not be forgotten ever life. The villagers cooperated us fully and praised our labour and work and we all had a heavenly pleasure when we all enjoyed together good ~~meals~~ after work. On the last day in the presence of the most of the village ~~people~~ the programme ended. ~~Beatty~~ ~~it~~ ~~was~~ ~~an~~ ~~important~~ ~~one~~. Thank

A ROAD ACCIDENT

Driving is a skill which needs patience and concentration. Driving at full speed has caused many vehicles - four-wheelers or two wheelers.

On 21st December I was going to my school. The road between Saraipali and Interapali was very busy because it was market day of Saraipali. Everybody seemed in hurry. A young man on a motor cycle came. He was driving the bike at a great speed. A girl was going on a bicycle. The motorcyclist tried to control its speed but it was too late. There was a severe collision. He knocked down the girl. The girl started screaming with pain. Some people ran to help the girl. The motorcyclist and I took her to the General Hospital. I took the girl to the "Emergency". The doctor on duty quickly examined the girl and gave her some tablets. I telephoned the parents of the girl. They immediately arrived and thanked me. The motorcyclist was very ashamed for the accident.

There has been a great rise in traffic recently. The number of road accidents is fast increasing. Rash driving and lack of effective traffic control are mainly responsible for it. It must be stopped forthwith. Some drivers take drugs.

AN EDUCATIONAL TOUR

Educational tours are very important in our life. We learn many practical things of life. These experiences are like books through which we learn how should be our dealings in life in this complicated world. Many colleges organise educational tours which teach students to enjoy and learn many things.

Our college also organised an educational tour during the Deepavali holidays. About 30 students of my class were ready to go on tour. I also wrote to my father and requested him to give permission for tour and send me Rs. 1500/.

Two Professors of our college were to go with the students. Our plan of tour was to visit Jaipur, Ajmer, Mount Abu and Agra.

We reached the railway station before time. The train arrived. We became quite alert and active about our seats. We put our luggage on the berth and sat comfortably. The train started in exact time of departure.

We reached Jaipur. We went to a Dhamashala which was reserved beforehand and got airy and comfortable rooms. In the next morning we got ready and proceeded to see the important places. We saw Hawa Mahal, Ramnivasgarh old palaces and other historical buildings. We stayed at Jaipur for 3 days. It was a nice chance to live together with all friends and enjoy the new places. It was the happiest time of my life.

We went to Ajmer by bus. We saw important places. We also visited 'Dargah' and 'Pushkar'. We stayed there for two days and went to Mount Abu. There we saw ~~to~~ and enjoyed the beauty of nature. We also saw many old and beautiful temples. We went to Agra at the next and stayed there for 3 days. We admired the beautiful Taj Mahal there. We also visited the Agra Fort and other historical important buildings.

We came back to our town and we had the vision of our visited beautiful sights before us.

Educational tours are very important. These experiences are ever-memorable in life. We learnt that we should be very careful during journey and in new places. We also learn the art of travelling, we meet many types of people and learn how to deal with them. Really it has its great importance itself.

Prize Distribution Ceremony of our College

In addition to teaching and studies every educational institution has an important place for co-curricular activities, functions and Celebrations. Functions add colour to life and give an enjoyment and change to the students. It also gives a practical blessing for future life. Prize distribution function, sports day or Annual function give a sense of pride to every student. It is the day which every student cherishes and ~~enjoys~~ enjoys the most. If he is receiver of an award then it is a day of proud to him.

The prize distribution function of our College was held in an open area. A beautiful sitting arrangement was made, parents and guardians were invited. The Secretary for Higher Education presided over it. The chief guest arrived on time and was received on the gate of the College by the Principal and the members of staff. A welcome song was sung by the girl students in his honour. The Principal, representatives of staff, guardians, garlanded him. The Principal of our College read out the College Annual-report. The College had marched strength to strength. Our College results had been brilliant. It had also won more in the games, and university winner in painting as well as in N.B.S. This speech was punctuated by cheers and applauds. The students of the College then presented cultural programmes - dances, songs and jokes. Then the Principal called out the names of the prize winners and the chief guest gave away their prizes. They came on the stage one by one and received their award and saluted the chief guest in the graceful manner. After the prize distribution, the President stood up and addressed the audience. He praised the College and staff for their good work and progress. He promised to help the college in every possible way. The speaker thanked the chief guest and other audience for their trouble. Holiday was announced the next day and the function came to an end. Sweets were distributed to all the students, guardians & parents.

BOOK FAIR

Books are our real friend every life. There is a companionship of books and men. A good book may be among the best of friends. It is the same today that always was and it will never change. It does not turn its back. It receives us always with same kindness.

A book fair was organised by the Central Library of our College on 13th Nov. 2014 under the guidance of our professors and Librarian with the aid of Local Rotary club. The fair was organised to encourage the development of reading habits in the students as well as for general readers. It was held in the big hall of our College. The books were arranged for all tastes and interest. There were various books of Science and Technology, Computer, Language, and medical and engineering including moral stories and Novels of renowned novelists of Hindi English and Oriya. The reputed books of the renowned poets, essayists, dramatist were available. The literature of yoga. The Kalyan's various editions from Geeta Press were available. The books relating to develop personal career were also there. Our College magazine was also put forth which the students had enjoyed a lot. Various magazines of standard publication were for sale. People enjoyed a lot by taking the books to read in a separate reading room. Really it was very fascinating.

Protection of Environment & Pollution

Now-a-days more and more attention is being paid all over the world for the protection of man's environment on which human existence depends on. Environment is meant those natural things that surround us - such as earth's atmosphere, healthy air and drinkable water. Thus protecting environment means keeping nature's gifts to mankind in as good as possible. Murder of environment which involves poisoning of the earth, air and water, destruction of forests as well.

The chemicals being produced and marketed for various purposes are proving useful in modern civilization particularly in manufacturing of weapons of war, but their adverse effect in the environment can hardly be lost sight of. The UNESCO has warned "The problem of environment can check the development of man kind." It is therefore essential that every country should pay deep attention towards this great problem. The Govt should be alert and attentive for land-planning, construction of industries, transport, control of air and water pollution.

Pollution means any thing that pollutes. Our rivers are polluted due to filthy waste factories. Exhaust fumes from motor vehicles pollute air, we breathe. Polluted water causes water borne diseases such as cholera, diarrhoea. There are also dangers of chemical pollution from radio-active wastes and other wastes from homes, factories, hospitals and laboratories keeps on poisoning the atmosphere surrounding the earth, on which we breathe. In the more industrial centres the dangers of pollution are increasing day by day with the chimneys vomiting dark smoke and coal-dust into atmosphere. The drains getting choked with poisonous and chemical wastes. Pollution control therefore is a must; if we want to avoid diseases and lead a happy and healthy life.

Necessity is the mother of Invention

Man is a social creature. He always lives in the society and every one has got needs or necessity. Man had few basic necessities in the olden age days in the beginning. He invented a number of things to fulfill them. In ancient age when he felt hungry he went in the search of food and also killed animals by the tools invented by him. When he felt cold, he wore animal skins. He prepared caves for his protection from heat, cold and rain.

Thus all inventions whether in the field of science or technology or in arts are in the ultimate analysis the outcome of some need or necessity felt by one man or a society.

As the society developed and time advanced he started farming, kept animals as pet and invented new measures of living.

Gradually when population increased and necessity raised inventions were made in every field. Thus new means of transport, communication came into man's hand to reduce distance. In fields new means of production factories of different needs opened to meet with the requirement of millions.

New medicines came up fast. By virtue of these necessities scientists and inventors went and going as well a head with their plans to provide every thing in the sphere of man's life as well as cattle.

The modern civilization is the fruit of the various invention that man has reached moon to the depth of sea & so impossible has been made possible.

Work is worship

Expansion

Work means duty allotted to a person. Human ^{life} being is filled with work. If he doesn't work, the life becomes idle and useless. Every person must take interest in his work, because no work is low or high. If any person has clergy with any work he becomes a rolling stone with gathers no moss. A person who constantly changes his occupation or plan of life he will never succeed in life. If any work is done to get money or wages it is also a work. The work should not harm any one that is the legitimate work or duty, for livelihood of own or for the family everyone has to work. If hard work is done the life becomes more interesting and enjoyable. The work may be mental or physical, every work pays money. Money gives respect to the person and work is the means by which money is earned. Man should not be selfish for his own work only, he should also work for the Society for the poor, for needy also. Work should be treated like worship of God. Every one should keep in mind that work is first and money is second. This proverb is full of truth and wisdom which gives us the true essence of life's philosophy. Work is important for success in life. Nothing is possible without work. Hard work rewards success, it never goes empty for example the duty of a student is to study, his work is to study. If he studies seriously and labours hard his success is sure. In the examination the second example is of a farmer or a businessman. The habit of hard work is a healthy habit with fruitful result. Every one must think that work is the worship of God. All religions teach this formula to man kind - that only work is work. The work done should be kept clean and pious, should also be free from any blamish. There should not be any ill-will in the mind while working. In our working we should be a flower and not a thorn. We should not trouble others for our own selfish working. Really work is a worship of Almighty God.

Report Writing BLOOD DONATION CAMP

Write a report on blood donation camp - In human life, blood is the pearl of the body. It is also applicable for any living creature. It is a life giving nector for weak patients who lacks blood. A blood donation camp was organised by the ~~club~~ Youth club of our city. Our college N. S.S. unit also participated in it. Many people, students participated and donated blood for the saving lives of those patients who have dire need of blood. It was so gracious for our college that the M.P. M.L.A as well as the Principal our college, members of the staff donated the blood. In addition, the Senior citizens also came front for donation. Every donater was happy to feel that he or she is sacrificing for the welfare of the patients. After there was a que for donaters and none hesitated to donate blood. The donaters after donating were given milk and apples. The arrival of the great personalities and youths of the city brought a colour in the camp. Every donater was given a certificate. Thus the blood donation camp was quite successful. Everyone praised the camp's arrangement and working.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

Honesty is a great virtue of any human being. It is a commendable trait from all points of view, for all persons and in all situations. Dishonesty may succeed for sometime but this kind of success is empty and meaningless. Honesty brings about mutual trust and confidence. Therefore we should always be honest in our dealings. It is only honesty which gives the surest way of success in life. In taking up a dishonest course we may succeed for the time being but we would be found out at last. A dishonest person may build up a great fortune but he will never be happy and in peace. He will be a loser in long run. We must remember the proverb - "I'll get ill spent", on the other hand an honest man will enjoy the fruits of his labour. Although he may not be able to make a good fortune for the time being, surely he or she will be happy and in peace ever life.

This policy or ~~the~~ saying we may call eternal ideal of life.

For a dishonest person punishment and disgrace follow.

This policy of honesty should not be for a short duration in life but should be adopted for the whole life. Every body must know that honesty is rewarded which brings virtue & honor.

Honesty is a moral law both in words and deeds.

Honesty is an inner-power which should come from within or from heart.

This virtuous action should be implemented ^{not only} in one's work, behaviour, duty, dealings and sources but also be in the heart through-out the life.

It is a practical fact that an honest person can not be successful in this world of falsehood and corruption.

Honesty is desirable from every branch of life - either a student, an officer, an Engineer or a businessman. An honest businessman not only retains his customers but also his honesty increases the number of his customers. It spreads of his reputation and creates a good will of others. A dishonest man can not elicit sympathy from anyone in times of difficulties. Hence we can dareably say that "Honesty is the best policy!"

A Friend in need is a friend indeed

With reference to the above title there are some lines of Ramcharit
by Goswami Tulsidas. ^{एतन्ना एतन्ना भ्रष्टा अरु गुरु}
_{अपुन कारा परल्ल पर}

A friend who helps his friend in time of difficulty is in fact a true friend. A man without friend feels lonely and deserted. He always needs someone to stand by him in the time of difficulties, need & trouble. He needs someone to comfort him, to give patient and stand by to fulfill & help him. Human life is a mixture of happiness and sadness. The friend is a medicine who comforts him during his sadness, increases his joys. These activities done by a friend can be called a true friend. The true friend's main quality is pure hearted and non-selfishness. In the present situation a friend becomes closely attached with a land, lord or moneyed friend by which he can fulfill his wish or desire. If a friend is poor he is not able to help financially, it would be wrong to not to give him the title of true friend. If such poor friend physically, mentally helps his friend in his need, he may also be called a true friend.

In the present atmosphere friends have become quite selfish and takes benefit of the weakness of other friend. Such friends are not true friends.

A friend should be like a family member, he should have the same affection, attachment and internal purity for the members of the friend's family.

The title is rather contradictory if we only expect a friend to help in need only. A friend should be ever-ready to stand beside for the whole life.

As you Sow so shall you reap

Man is a Social Creature. He has Consciousness by which he can ascertain about good and bad, virtue and vice. The human race has been gifted with the power to judge - good and evil. His statement is befitting for the human being. It is full of caution and advice. This title suggests us that man's action must have their fruits. Consequences or result. Therefore one must be alert and aware of its result, coming at the end. All our actions must arise from noble motives aiming at positive targets in life. For example if a person uselessly wastes his valuable time in enjoyment or idleness, he will have to suffer at the end.

A lazy student who has not studied till the last moment of the exam. can not and should not expect a good result. Our actions are the seeds and results are the harvest or fruits. As good seeds grow into good fruits while rotten seeds grow into rotten fruits. We can say firmly that good actions possess good result and bad actions contain bad results. If we take the example of a businessman if he earns money by befooling and cheating people its result will be full of loss at the end.

Everybody knows the story of a milkman who used to cheat people by selling water mixed milk. At the end all his money was thrown by the monkeys into the water of a tank. We can also take an example of a patient who does not follow the advice and precautions of a doctor at the end he loses his life.

The result of all action is determined by what one does and how sincerely, honestly he does it.

Again we can cite an example of a student, if a student studies diligently he achieves good results.

There are some people who believe that what one is destined to get, he will get definitely, whether or not he makes labour or not. The experience in real life proves otherwise. One's reward and punishment are the direct results of one's good or evil actions. Honesty and hard work are always rewarded.

Dishonesty and evil deeds are always punished. Fruits of an action are determined by the nature of that action.

According to the above examples and citation we can firmly say that "As you Sow so shall you reap".

Where there is a will there is a way

Man is a creature whom Almighty God has made with ^(Amn) conscience. He or she knows the good & evil better than any other creature in this world.

It is a popular saying which means that when we are determined to do a thing, although it may be difficult, we find a way to do it if we have a will power.

All difficulties vanish before a determined will. All difficulties, obstacles and problems melt away before a strong determination.

In addition to will power or determination, patience and perseverance helps to activate it. There are various examples of great personalities who overcame the difficulties and got a right way with great success.

We can take the example of Napoleon, who once told that it was impossible to cross the Alps. He also said -

"There shall be no Alps" and soon a road was made across. According to Napoleon "The word impossible is only found in the dictionary of fools". So it is only will power or determination, which brings the success surely.

It is also a saying that great souls have will and weak one's have wishes. The weak one's only make castles in the air but get nothing. The strong one's with their determination get glorious success. It is a fact that man has to face difficulties like physical, financial and Political, moral, ethical etc. but people with resolute will overcome them and get success. Particularly the students should keep this theory in mind. We can take the example of Curie. We can say that human - intelligence, dedication, patient and hard work and honesty can bless with success in life.

There might be any problem, there is always a solution or way to solve it. What so ever the goal may be there is a way to achieve it.

UNION IS STRENGTH OR UNITED WE STAND DIVIDED WE FALL

is a burning fact that union is co-operation with each other. faction or union is weakness. A united family, a united society, a united race or community and united nation is always strong. but those who are in pieces, having no co-operation or divided into factions or groups are all weak. If we take the example of any football, volleyball, cricket or hockey team, if the members of the team play together and with co-operation, without any malice with each other, the team will be a strong team. At the other hand if the players of the team play their game individually, they will surely be defeated, however strong the individual player may be. It is also applicable in an army. To win the battle there must be unity and oneness. A united society, a united army as well as a united nation is always strong.

This reference we can quote an example of the story of bundle of sticks given by the old man to his sons to break individually and to break it in a bundle. The old man taught his sons the importance and value of unity. Take the example of a family, if its members are divided it can not make progress. If a society is not united and if its members fight among themselves, and they have narrow mindedness, they can not do any welfare for the society. It is an appropriate proverb "Divide we fall, united we stand". It is also truly applicable for a nation if it has got faction, or difference in ideas they can not be united. The different countries having different ideas have made the world a battle field. The united USSR had been strong, powerful and prosperous but now the divided Soviet Union is weak and facing a lot of external & internal problems. This proverb is really an essence of practical life for a family, a society, an office, a family nation and for the whole world.

RAGGING

Ragging in Indian Schools and Colleges - Specially in residential ones has naturally increased in recent times. The practice is of foreign origins but it is now no longer foreign to academic institutions located even in rural parts of India. Like an epidemic disease it is spreading fast and has already posed a big threat to the student's parents, teachers, educational authorities, social thinkers and all others who are who are in any way connected with the education of children and well being of the nation.

The meaning of Ragging is 'funny' or humorous teasing but the ragging that is practised in our residential institutions is out of boundry in civility and morality. This humour changes into teasing as well as torture. Ragging has now become violent, brutal and torture internally and outwardly. This ragging gives the victim physical and mental punishment as well as torturing. Even if the physical injury is healed up, the mental injury becomes too deep to be fully cured. This brutal action affects the mind of the victim psychologically. It becomes a great shock for the victim for rest of life.

It ruins the career of a promising students. Some senior students are found to be indulged in ragging. The new students for some time at the time of the beginning of the educational session. It is done secretly. These victims are also warned not to disclose their suffering and the torture they are facing.

Some people think about ragging that it is a good practice to face the odds in future life which is quite stupidity. It is a good step that the Govt. has taken it seriously and strictly. Teachers, students, Press, Radio, T.V. and Sensative persons and even judiciary has taken steps in this regard. The students as well as guardians are now filling in a declaration not to take part and holding responsible themselves for the breaking of law in future.
